The elegant humour and infinite glamour of a Diva en travesti with a three octave vocal range...

LaLa McCallan is a unique artist: a singing diva with a vocal range of over three octaves used seamlessly to surprise the audience with a repertoire ranging from Maria (Callas) to Mariah (Carey), and also touching on Frank Sinatra to create amazing duets with her/himself. Thanks to her breathtaking costumes and her irresistible self deprecating humour, LaLa McCallan blurs the boundary between masculine and feminine, joining the best Las Vegas tradition to the most fabulous European elegance.

"Everybody needs to feel special..."

"VivaLaDiva!" is a mini course teaching how to celebrate "the little diva that lives within all of us" in five short and fun filled lessons. In each "lesson" LaLa sings two songs that require increasing vocal and comedy skills, starting with pop and soul standards and ending with opera classics. This musical crescendo is matched by a visual feast of magnificent costumes and hairstyles that become increasingly impressive with each entrance, until the final coup the Théâtre that has the audience gasping in their seats.

"VivaLaDiva!" is a light hearted evening of fun that is refined and very accessible at the same time. It is a versatile format ideally conceived as a Dinner Show, where the stage comes to life between each course creating a fast paced entertainment that is received with ever increasing enthusiasm by the audience.

"Dressed in splendid costumes, jewels and wigs, LaLa McCallan has a voice that can sing anything from jazz to opera, switching on a whim from the softness of a nightingale to the powerfulness of a lyric tenor."

The show can be performed also as a stand alone spectacle with no breaks. In that case LaLa McCallan will alternate on stage with crooner Stuart Lindsay, who will delight the audience with classics from Sinatra's and Buble's repertoire, and creating an amusing interaction with the Diva as she comes in and out of stage.

The show has a duration of approximately two hours when performed as a Dinner Show, while the stand alone version is about one hour and fifteen minutes long.

"VivaLaDiva" is sung and performed live on pre recorded backing tracks. It can be performed in English, Italian and also Spanish, French and German upon request. The delicate humour of the show make it suitable for all ages.

"VivaLaDiva!" is the first show of LaLa McCallan created for Teatro Eden in Bologna, Italy. Eden is a four star de-luxe Dinner Theatre venue annexed to I Portici Hotel (www.iporticihotel.com), a member of SLH -Small Luxury Hotels of the World.
